AIR CHIEF AT THE BAR OF MILITARY JUSTICE

COL. MITCHELL UNDER ARREST FOR COURT MARTIAL

MILITARY TRIAL TO TAKE PLACE
IN AN OLD WARE-HOUSE

CHARGED WITH SUBVERSIVE CRITICISM OF HIS SUPERIORS

The authority and power of the court martial to try Colonel Mitchell was challenged at the afternoon session.

Representative Reid, Mitchell's counsel, asserted Mitchell had not committed a breach of military law, nor violated the articles of war.

He declared that the charges and specifications in their present form "are not cognizable by this court martial."

"The making of these statements by Colonel Mitchell," Reid said, "constitute no offense over which this court martial has jurisdiction."

By WILLIAM J. McEVOY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 28.—Colonel William Mitchell was brought before the bar of military justice today to stand trial for subversive criticism of his superiors for their conduct of the national defense.

At the foot of Capitol Hill, in an old warehouse, the court martial convened at the order of President Coolidge, met to try him for conduct "prejudicial to good order and discipline."

Mitchell was placed under arrest at his home shortly after breakfast this morning and confined to the jurisdiction of the court.

The fiery colonel will plead not guilty to all eight specifications of the charges preferred against him as a result of his statement issued in San Antonio on September 5, and subsequent utterances. The defense will be based on constitutional guarantees of free speech.

The penalty in case of conviction ranges from reprimand to dismissal from the service.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The defense won the first skirmish in the court martial proceedings against Colonel William Mitchell today, when Brigadier General Albert J. Bowley, court member, was removed from the general court on grounds of prejudice, made by Mitchell. The trial of Mitchell on charges growing out of his talks on management of the air service opened today.

Representative Frank R. Reid, Illinois, Mitchell's civilian counsel, next challenged Major General Chas. P. Summerall, president of the court, quoting recent speeches of Summerall and his testimony before the president's air board to show he could not be fair to the aviation critic.

Reid charged that Bowley had displayed "prejudice, hostility and bias" to Mitchell.

Quoting from a speech Bowley made in North Carolina, October 20, Reid insisted that Bowley had made many statements against Mitchell. Bowley's speech in the main, was a denunciation of Mitchell's separate air service.

Replying to Reid, Bowley admitted making the speech but said his views on the organization of the air service would not affect his judgment in the case.

Despite Bowley's statement, Reid insisted on the challenge and General Summerall ordered the court adjourned while the challenge was balloted on.

The court retired to an antechamber and returned a few minutes later with the announcement that Bowley would be removed.

Victory for the defense was increased when Summerall announced that he would withdraw from the court in view of Reid's objection.

Mitchell's attorneys then challenged Fred W. Slayden, superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point, and he also withdrew, thus cutting the membership of the court from 13 to 10.

The vacancies will not be filled and the trial proceeded with 10 members of the court.

BY CHICAGO OFFI-CERS

LEGED ILLEGAL HAULING

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Alfred Borener, said by authorities to be chief clerk for the New York Central railroad, was held for questioning today by officers investigating the alleged illegal transportation of beer by railroads serving Chicago.

1,000 KILLED IN BOMBARDMENT OF DAMASCUS

London, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Jerusalem dispatches today stated French sources believed at least 1,000 persons were killed in the recent bombardment of Damascus, while the Arab estimate that as many as 25,000 casualties resulted from the French quelling of a native rebellion in the ancient city.

Damascus is reported badly damaged, many of its picturesque structures piled in ruins. Out of the city come reports that the French guns wrought this havoc, but the French themselves claim that vandals within the town were responsible.

The rebels, according to reports reaching here, attempted to storm public buildings but were repulsed. However, they succeeded in burning the beautiful Anam palace, housing the Moslem museum. This act of vandalism was apparently by mistake for the mobs are reported to have believed that General Sarrail, French commissioner for Syria, was making his headquarters there.

While it is difficult to obtain exact figures on the losses it was deemed significant that a semi-official French newspaper in Beirut allowed to be printed Arab estimates of 8,000 killed in Damascus.

CARRYING OUT
LEAGUE'S ORDERS

Athens, Oct. 28.—Greek troops who pushed over the frontier of Macedonia into Bulgaria are retiring.

Carrying out the order of the League of Nations council and fulfilling the retirement agreement reached through Rumanian mediation, the Greeks would be completely out of the occupied territory by eight o'clock Friday morning when the time limit for withdrawal expires.

(The League of Nations council orders require that the evacuation shall be complete on Thursday; this perhaps refers to a time limit set in the Rumanian mediation.)

There is considerable concern here that the evacuation may not be accomplished without incident for some thousands of Bulgar Comitadjis (irregulars) are reported massed outside Petrich (Petritsi). It is feared they may attack the retiring forces, thus causing fresh complications.

SCOTCH TERRIER FINDS BODY OF DEAD MISTRESS

MRS. ALEXANDER H. STEWART
OF CHICAGO DROWNED IN
LAKE MICHIGAN

LITTLE DOG KEPT FAITHFUL
VIGIL OVER HER RE-MAINS

Highland Park, Ill., Oct. 28.—(UP)—Drawn to the scene by "Tiny" a wire-haired Scotch terrier, who kept faithful vigil over his mistress, police today dragged the shore line of Lake Michigan and found the body of Mrs. Alexander H. Stewart, wife of a wealthy merchant tailor.

Mrs. Stewart had been missing from her home since the middle of yesterday afternoon when she unleashed Tiny and took him for a walk. Tiny has won several prizes at dog shows.

Search was started in the evening when Stewart came home and missed his wife. Suicide was not considered until Tiny was found shivering in the snow on a pier that juts into the lake not far from the Stewart residence. Mrs. Stewart's fur neck piece was found at the end of the pier and her coat in the water.

When police arrived, Tiny gave up his vigil and started home. Just as he was crossing the last street before reaching his kennel he was run down by an automobile and killed.

Stewart said his wife had been ill about a year and accepted the belief that she had jumped into the lake. There was no mark of violence on the body which indicated the woman committed suicide.

CONGESTION AT SAMPLING POINTS

THE N. W. REGIONAL ADVISORY
BOARD TRIES TO SOLVE TRANS-
PORTATION PROBLEM

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 28.—(UP)—Foreseeing the day when all flour wheat will be marketed on a protein content basis, the Northwest Regional Advisory Board at its meeting here took steps to solve the transportation problem.

Congestion at sampling points during 1925 has been due to the increased buying on a protein content basis, experts said. Greater congestion due to this practice in the future was predicted.

The next meeting of the board will be held in Minneapolis in January when millers will be asked to co-operate in solving new problems of marketing.

Railroads were praised by shippers for their handling of the grain movement this year.

R. J. Coleman, Duluth, chairman of the joint grain terminal committee, said the new practice had revolutionized marketing on wheat and urged close study of the problem.

The two baby boys had been bathed and allowed to play in the bath room while their mother attended to other duties. The medicine chest caught their fancy and its contents were pulled to the floor.

Soon after the children complained of illness, they suffered convulsions and died. No poison could be found among the bath salts were said to have contained enough to kill the children.

MACHINERY IS DISPLACING HIRED HANDS ON FARM

MACHINES WITH 2 MEN HANDL-
ING 640 ACRES OF WHEAT
IN OPERATION

TRACTORS ARE BEING SOLD FAS-
TER THAN THEY CAN BE MANUFACTURED

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Machinery is replacing thousands of hired hands on the farm. F. A. Wirt, president of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, told the convention of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers here today.

"Machines that will permit two men to handle 640 acres of wheat were actually in operation this year in Montana," Wirt said. "Tractors sold faster than many companies could make them, even when running night and day."

The new movement will eliminate the low grade farm hand and permit the high class men to earn more money and at the same time enable farmers in general to cut down expenses and reach a more profitable status, he said.

SOUTH DAKOTA FORCED OUT OF GAS BUSINESS

DECISION OF STATE SUPREME COURT GRANTS RESTRAIN-
ING ORDER

ISSUED AT THE PETITION OF
PRIVATE OIL COM-
PANIES

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 28.—(UP)—The state of South Dakota was forced out of the gasoline business today by a decision of the state supreme court granting a restraining order to private oil companies to prevent state officials from selling gasoline to the public.

The court held action of the last legislature in authorizing the governor and the gasoline board to use a portion of state highway funds to finance retail distribution of gasoline and oil was a violation of the constitution.

Court action was brought by the White Eagle Oil & Refining Company. Other resident concerns had also instituted cases which were decided at the same time.

In the decision, numerous contentions of the state in support of continued oil sales were unanswered. The court did not decide, for example, whether power to sell gasoline was justified as a police measure. Only the issue of constitutionality of the appropriation of funds for the business was mentioned.

It is believed at the attorney general's office this decision prevents further attempts of state officials to continue gasoline sales unless the state legislature makes a specific appropriation for the purpose. The defendants are given 30 days by terms of the decision to file a reply but it is thought this right will be waived.

ACTUAL DRAFTING WORK STARTS ON NEXT MONDAY

PUBLIC HEARINGS ARE NOW
PRACTICALLY CON-
CLUDED

3 DAYS REMAIN TO CONSIDER
MINOR ADMINISTRATIVE FEATURES

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 28.—The nation's new $300,000,000 tax reduction is beginning to take definite shape in the minds of members of the house ways and means committee, who next Monday will begin actual drafting work.

The public hearings which began a week ago Monday are practically concluded. Three days remain in which to work out comparatively unimportant administrative features.

A canvass of the committee conducted by the United Press indicates that the new bill, when it is reported out of the committee, will shape up something like this:

Surtaxes—The Mellon rates beginning at one per cent on $12,000 and continuing in gradual scale up to 20 per cent on $150,000.

Normal Rates—Probably the Mellon plan for one per cent on $3,000, two per cent on the next $1,000, three per cent on the next $4,000 and five per cent on the remainder, although there is strong sentiment in the committee for wiping out the normal taxes on incomes under $5,000.

Inheritance Taxes—The Delano report providing repeal of the inheritance tax six years hence with reduction of the present maximum rate of 40 per cent to 15 per cent.

Excise Taxes—The Mellon plan, which calls for repeal of taxes on automobile trucks, tires and accessories and retention of the automobile sales tax. Probably some of the other minor excise taxes will be repealed, although it cannot be decided definitely until the treasury department reveals how much revenue each of the taxes yield. The committee generally does not favor the Garner plan for elimination of all excise taxes by extension of the public debt retirement.

Publicity—To repeal present provision for publicity of the name of the taxpayer and the amount of the return.

Capital Stock—Repeal of the capital stock tax.

Corporations—Increase of the flat corporation tax to 13½ or 14 per cent to absorb the amount of the reduction to be made in the capital stock levy, purely an administrative change which will make no appreciable difference in the amount most corporations have to pay.

STIRLING EXPEDITION READY FOR TAKING NEXT LEG OF TRIP

Rock Springs, Wyo., Oct. 28.—(UP)—The Stirling expedition, flying from Chicago to Dutch New Guinea, was in readiness to leave here today on the next leg of its journey.

The flyers were forced down yesterday afternoon, when they encountered heavy head winds. They were unable to make much speed after leaving Rawlins, so decided to wait for more favorable flying weather.

The expedition is being sponsored by the Smithsonian institution.

In New Guinea a study of the Pygmy race, reported to be there, is to be made.

Foundling to be Adopted

St. Paul—The month old baby found nestled in the snow of a St. Paul doorstep yesterday morning is about to make a permanent home on the other side of the door. The L. C. Kackman family on whose doorstep the infant was left has asked to adopt the foundling.

ILLEGAL CHECK FOR ILLEGAL GOODS BREAKS NO LAW

Minneapolis, Oct. 28.—(UP)—An illegal check in payment for illegal merchandise constitutes no violation of law, it was decided in Hennepin county court. C. C. Craig was released when he told the court a had check was given for alcohol to start a bootlegging business at Owatonna. The purported liquor smelled like benzine, he charged.

1,000 KILLED IN BOMBARDMENT OF DAMASCUS

London, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Jerusalem dispatches today stated French sources believed at least 1,000 persons were killed in the recent bombardment of Damascus, while the Arab estimate that as many as 25,000 casualties resulted from the French quelling of a native rebellion in the ancient city.

Damascus is reported badly damaged, many of its picturesque structures piled in ruins. Out of the city come reports that the French guns wrought this havoc, but the French themselves claim that vandals within the town were responsible.

The rebels, according to reports reaching here, attempted to storm public buildings but were repulsed. However, they succeeded in burning the beautiful Anam palace, housing the Moslem museum.

This act of vandalism was apparently by mistake for the mobs are reported to have believed that General Sarrail, French commissioner for Syria, was making his headquarters there.

While it is difficult to obtain exact figures on the losses it was deemed significant that a semi-official French newspaper in Beirut allowed to be printed Arab estimates of 8,000 killed in Damascus.

BULGARIANS ATTACK RETIRING GREEK COLUMNS

GREEK GOVERNMENT ORDERS SUSPENSION OF WITH-DRAWAL

GREECE THEN FORWARDS A PROTEST TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

By ANTHONY PAPAYANNAKIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Athens, Oct. 28.—Bulgarians have attacked the left flank of the Greek columns retreating from Bulgarian soil and the Greek government in consequence has ordered a suspension of the withdrawal which had begun in accordance with the orders of the League of Nations council.

Greece forwarded a protest to President Briand of the League of Nations council against this attack as a violation of the council's decision.

CARRYING OUT LEAGUE'S ORDERS

Athens, Oct. 28.—Greek troops who pushed over the frontier of Macedonia into Bulgaria are retiring.

Carrying out the order of the League of Nations council and fulfilling the retirement agreement reached through Rumanian mediation, the Greeks would be completely out of the occupied territory by eight o'clock Friday morning when the time limit for withdrawal expires.

(The League of Nations council orders require that the evacuation shall be complete on Thursday; this perhaps refers to a time limit set in the Rumanian mediation.)

There is considerable concern here that the evacuation may not be accomplished without incident for some thousands of Bulgarian Comitatists (irregulars) are reported massed outside Petrich (Petritsi). It is feared they may attack the retiring forces, thus causing fresh complications.

CLAIM BULGARIANS ATTACKED GREEKS

London, Oct. 28.—An Exchange Telegraph cablegram from Saloniki reported today that the Bulgarians this morning attacked the withdrawing Greek forces. It was believed at Saloniki that the evacuation of Bulgaria by Greece had ceased.

GREECE ORDERS WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS

Geneva, Oct. 28.—The League of Nations secretariat was informed today that Greece had ordered withdrawal of her troops behind her own frontier in full conformity with the council's orders. Bulgaria sent to the council at Paris yesterday word that she had ordered hostilities to end.

BULGARIAN POST UNDER GREEK FIRE

Sofia, Oct. 28.—A Bulgarian post early today was for five hours under Greek rifle fire, according to advices reaching here.

SCOTCH TERRIER FINDS BODY OF DEAD MISTRESS

MRS. ALEXANDER H. STEWART
OF CHICAGO DROWNED IN
LAKE MICHIGAN

LITTLE DOG KEPT FAITHFUL
VIGIL OVER HER RE-
MAINS

Highland Park, Ill., Oct. 28.—(UP)—Drawn to the scene by "Tiny," a wire-haired Scotch terrier, who kept faithful vigil over his mistress, police today dragged the shore line of Lake Michigan and found the body of Mrs. Alexander H. Stewart, wife of a wealthy merchant tailor.

Mrs. Stewart had been missing from her home since the middle of yesterday afternoon when she unleashed Tiny and took him for a walk. Tiny has won several prizes at dog shows.

Search was started in the evening when Stewart came home and missed his wife. Suicide was not considered until Tiny was found shivering in the snow on a pier that juts into the lake not far from the Stewart residence.

Mrs. Stewart's fur neck piece was found at the end of the pier and her coat in the water.

When police arrived, Tiny gave up his vigil and started home. Just as he was crossing the last street before reaching his kennel he was run down by an automobile and killed.

Stewart said his wife had been ill about a year and accepted the belief that she had jumped into the lake. There was no marks of violence on the body which indicated the woman committed suicide.

Says Bus Transportation Increased Population

Rochester, Minn., Oct. 28.—(UP)—Rochester business men favor expansion of bus transportation many of them told Ivan Bowen at a hearing conducted by the railroad and warehouse commission here today.

The Jefferson Highway Transportation Company is seeking a license to operate busses in this section of the state.

Much of the increase in transient population here was ascribed to bus travel by H. A. Johnson, business manager of the Mayo clinic.

Great Western railroad officials opposing the granting of the license will testify later today, the hearing continuing tonight.

NAVAL PLANE IN UNLOOKED FOR EXHIBITION

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 28.—(UP)—A sea naval plane caught fire while flying here for Navy day exercises with two parachute jumpers on the wings. The parachute men leaped into space dropping 2,000 feet and landing safely, while Lieutenant Charles Conner and a mechanic fought the flames at the same time driving in a huge smoke are high above North Island for a dive into the bay landing safely.

Citizenship Denied Mankato—Citizenship was denied Christian Schmidt in Federal court yesterday, when witnesses testified that the alien had been found guilty of seditious statements during the war. His wife was granted citizenship.

CONGESTION AT SAMPLING POINTS

THE N. W. REGIONAL ADVISORY
BOARD TRIES TO SOLVE TRANS-
PORTATION PROBLEM

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 28.—(UP)—Foreseeing the day when all flour wheat will be marketed on a protein content basis, the Northwest Regional Advisory Board at its meeting here took steps to solve the transportation problem.

Congestion at sampling points during 1925 has been due to the increased buying on a protein content basis, experts said. Greater congestion due to this practice in the future was predicted.

The next meeting of the board will be held in Minneapolis in January when millers will be asked to co-operate in solving new problems of marketing.

Railroads were praised by shippers for their handling of the grain movement this year.

R. J. Coleman, Duluth, chairman of the joint grain terminal committee, said the new practice had revolutionized marketing on wheat and urged close study of the problem.

TWO BABY BOYS TAKE BATH SALTS; DIE IN CONVULSIONS

St. Paul, Oct. 28.—(UP)—A bottle of green bath salts was blamed today for the death late yesterday of John, Jr., and Thomas Kepple, 2½ and 1½ years.

The two baby boys had been bathed and allowed to play in the bath room while their mother attended to other duties. The medicine chest caught their fancy and its contents were pulled to the floor.

Soon after the children complained of illness, they suffered convulsions and died. No poison could be found among the containers on the floor, but the bath salts were said to have contained enough to kill the children.

Mrs. John Kepple, the mother, is reported in serious condition from shock of the accident.

MACHINERY IS DISPLACING HIRED HANDS ON FARM

MACHINES WITH 2 MEN HANDL-
ING 640 ACRES OF WHEAT
IN OPERATION

TRACTORS ARE BEING SOLD FAS-
TER THAN THEY CAN BE MANUFACTURED

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Machinery is replacing thousands of hired hands on the farm, F. A. Wirt, president of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, told the convention of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers here today.

"Machines that will permit two men to handle 640 acres of wheat were actually in operation this year in Montana," Wirt said. "Tractors sold faster than many companies could make them, even when running night and day."

The new movement will eliminate the low grade farm hand and permit the high class man to earn more money and at the same time enable farmers in general to cut down expenses and reach a more profitable status, he said.

ALLOWED TO EXTEND RAILWAY

Washington, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Two receivers of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad were authorized today to extend the line into Missoula county, Montana.

SOUTH DAKOTA FORCED OUT OF GAS BUSINESS

DECISION OF STATE SUPREME COURT GRANTS RESTRAIN-
ING ORDER

ISSUED AT THE PETITION OF
PRIVATE OIL COM-
PANIES

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 28.—(UP)—The state of South Dakota was forced out of the gasoline business today by a decision of the state supreme court granting a restraining order to private oil companies to prevent state officials from selling gasoline to the public.

The court held action of the last legislature in authorizing the governor and the gasoline board to use a portion of state highway funds to finance retail distribution of gasoline and oil was a violation of the constitution.

Court action was brought by the White Eagle Oil & Refining Company. Other resident concerns had also instituted cases which were decided at the same time.

In the decision, numerous contentions of the state in support of continued oil sales were unanswered. The court did not decide, for example, whether power to sell gasoline was justified as a police measure. Only the issue of constitutionality of the appropriation of funds for the business was mentioned.

It is believed that the attorney general's office this decision prevents further attempts of state officials to continue gasoline sales unless the state legislature makes a specific appropriation for the purpose. The defendants are given 30 days by terms of the decision to file a reply but it is thought this right will be waived.

ACTUAL DRAFTING WORK STARTS ON NEXT MONDAY

PUBLIC HEARINGS ARE NOW
PRACTICALLY CON-
CLUDED

3 DAYS REMAIN TO CONSIDER
MINOR ADMINISTRATIVE
FEATURES

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 28.—The nation's new $300,000,000 tax reduction is beginning to take definite shape in the minds of members of the house ways and means committee, who next Monday will begin actual drafting work.

The public hearings which began a week ago Monday are practically concluded. Three days remain in which to work out comparatively unimportant administrative features.

A canvass of the committee conducted by the United Press indicates that the new bill, when it is reported out of the committee, will shape up something like this:

Surtaxes—The Mellon rates beginning at one per cent on $12,000 and continuing in gradual scale up to 20 per cent on $150,000.

Normal Rates—Probably the Mellon plan for one per cent on $3,000, two per cent on the next $1,000, three per cent on the next $4,000 and five per cent on the remainder, although there is strong sentiment in the committee for wiping out the normal taxes on incomes under $5,000.

Inheritance Taxes—The Delano report providing repeal of the inheritance tax six years hence with reduction of the present maximum rate of 40 per cent to 15 per cent.

Excise Taxes—The Mellon plan, which calls for repeal of taxes on automobile trucks, tires and accessories and retention of the automobile sales tax. Probably some of the other minor excise taxes will be repealed, although it cannot be decided definitely until the treasury department reveals how much revenue each of the taxes yield. The committee generally does not favor the Garner plan for elimination of all excise taxes by extension of the public debt retirement.

Publicity—To repeal present provision for publicity of the name of the taxpayer and the amount of the return.

Capital Stock—Repeal of the capital stock tax.

Corporations—Increase of the flat corporation tax to 13½ or 14 per cent to absorb the amount of the reduction to be made in the capital stock levy, purely an administrative change which will make no appreciable difference in the amount most corporations have to pay.

STIRLING EXPEDITION READY FOR TAKING NEXT LEG OF TRIP

Rock Springs, Wyo., Oct. 28.—(UP)—The Stirling expedition, flying from Chicago to Dutch New Guinea, was in readiness to leave here today on the next leg of its journey.

The flyers were forced down yesterday afternoon, when they encountered heavy head winds. They were unable to make much speed after leaving Rawlins, so decided to wait for more favorable flying weather.

The expedition is being sponsored by the Smithsonian institute. In New Guinea a study of the Pygmy race, reported to be there, is to be made.

Foundling to be Adopted

St. Paul—The month old baby found nestled in the snow of a St. Paul doorstep yesterday morning is about to make permanent home the other side of the door. The L. C. Kackman family on whose doorstep the infant was left has asked to adopt the foundling.

ILLEGAL CHECK FOR ILLEGAL GOODS BREAKS NO LAW

Minneapolis, Oct. 28.—(UP)—An illegal check in payment for illegal merchandise constitutes no violation of law, it was decided in Hennepin county court. C. C. Craig was released when he told the court a bad check was given for alcohol to start a bootlegging business at Owatonna. The purported liquor smelled like benzine, he charged.

Buck Jones' New Western Picture Tornado of Action

A veritable tornado of flying fists, galloping horses and whirlwind action descended upon the Lyceum theatre last evening where Buck Jones' latest picture cyclone, "The Timber Wolf," is now showing and has a most engrossing love interest.

The most thrilling moments of the William Fox picture are contributed by Buck Jones. This active young man astounds his audiences with most hazardous feats of daring. When "Buck" starts for the jail to rescue his friend and sends a double-bitted axe whizzing by his adversary's head, lodging its blade in the door of the "hoosegow," you are bound to stand up on your feet and screech.

Cameramen Defy Death Filming Zane Grey's "Wild Horse Mesa"

Hail the movie cameramen! Unhindered, unsung heroes of filmdom! The average picture-goer, who sits amidst ease and comfort in a well-ventilated, luxuriously-appointed theatre and watches the silent shadows flit across the silver sheet, little dreams of the dangers and hardships that fall to the lot of "the men who turn the crank." Yet, quite often, the cinema photographers experience greater thrills and have more narrow escapes than were ever flashed upon the screen.

"Wild Horse Mesa" is a case in point. This spectacular Zane Grey melodrama, which opens Friday at the New Park for a three day run, was filmed almost entirely in the rugged Red Lake section of the Arizona desert.

Tornado of Action

A veritable tornado of flying fists, galloping horses and whirlwind action descended upon the Lyceum theatre last evening where Buck Jones' latest picture cyclone, "The Timber Wolf," is now showing and has a most engrossing love interest.

The most thrilling moments of the William Fox picture are contributed by Buck Jones. This active young man astounds his audiences with most hazardous feats of daring. When "Buck" starts for the jail to rescue his friend and sends a double-bitted axe whizzing by his adversary's head, lodging its blade in the door of the "hoosegow," you are bound to stand up on your feet and screech.

Cameramen Defy Death Filming Zane Grey's "Wild Horse Mesa"

Hail the movie cameramen! Unhindered, unsung heroes of filmdom! The average picture-goer, who sits amidst ease and comfort in a well-ventilated, luxuriously appointed theatre and watches the silent shadows flit across the silver sheet, little dreams of the dangers and hardships that fall to the lot of "the men who turn the crank." Yet, quite often, the cinema photographers experience greater thrills and have more narrow escapes than were ever flashed upon the screen.

"Wild Horse Mesa" is a case in point. This spectacular Zane Grey melodrama, which opens Friday at the New Park for a three day run, was filmed almost entirely in the rugged Red Lake section of the Arizona desert.

Forty-four years ago on October 27, this bank was established. Could the original officers forecast the change from the old town pump to the modern plumbing now in every home? Could they foresee electric lighting in homes and farms, our network of well paved streets, or the modern stores, and office buildings?

They had vision and faith in Brainerd. Their bank has freely supported progressive movements that have brought this great advancement.

Whatever new developments are yet to come, you may depend on the First National Bank to play its usual leading part.

"PILL BOTTLE" CAST AT WORK

Perfecting Details of Play to be Presented at 1st Baptist Church

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 6

Constant Rehearsal Will Produce Finesse of Professional Actors

The cast of "The Pill Bottle" is hard at work, perfecting the details of the play which is to be presented at the First Baptist church on November 6th. With a few more rehearsals those participating will have the finesse of professional actors, though with the exception of a very few, none of the cast of 24 characters has ever appeared in a public performance.

The first scene of "The Pill Bottle" takes place in the room of four senior college girls who are about to go out into "the wide world" to their various professions, and "Bab," Barbara Lane, is going to India for a visit with her parents, her father being a physician there.

The second scene opens four months later, with Barbara at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lane in India. It is during this scene that Bab sees the very great need of a woman doctor in that field, and makes the decision to give up her plan of returning to New York where she intended to specialize in interior decorating.

Four years elapse, between the second and third scenes, finding Barbara Lane a full fledged M. D., and her waiting room crowded with patients. The setting of the fourth scene is the same as that of the second, but the actors refuse to divulge any more of a synopsis, insisting that the remainder of the play is too good to tell, and advising that the public plan now to attend and verify for itself this statement.

Following is the cast of "The Pill Bottle":

Dr. Lane—William Anderson.
Mrs. Lane—Mrs. Henry Olson.
Barbara Lane—Mrs. Walter Murphy.
Francis Tuttle, a college girl—Mrs. Roy Williams.
Helen Durand, a college girl—Mrs. George Tracy.
Bible Woman—Mrs. H. A. Knapp.
The outcast woman—Mrs. Roy Williams.
Jane Patterson, a college girl—Mrs. Ausmessen.
First Hindu Man—Earle Rhodes.
Second Hindu Man—Wendell Burnes.
Hindu Boy Husband—Ryland Erickson.

Patients—Mrs. Boyd Hamilton, Mrs. George A. Beale, Miss Mabel Olson, Mrs. Walter Minske, Miss Fern Lewis, Mrs. Ausmessen, Mrs. L. Schaefer, Miss Ada Dye, Mrs. A. E. Gustafson, Mrs. Herbert Mass, Mrs. Elfreda Powell, Mrs. William Anderson and Mrs. Henry Graham.

The public is asked to keep this big event in mind, and to plan on attending it. The church promises that this will be one of the really fine local talent productions of the year.

and senior officer after the removals, was named presiding officer. The court settled down to business and prosecution counsel read the specifications and charges against Mitchell. These included the lengthy statement issued by Mitchell at San Antonio headquarters on the Shenandoah disaster, which was the real basis for the present investigation. Mitchell charged the "war and navy departments with criminal negligence and almost treasonable administration of the national defense."

Mitchell was required to stand while the specifications were being read by Lieutenant Colonel J. I. McMullen, who also stood.

It developed then that the lengthy San Antonio statement had to be read in connection with each of the specifications based on it and despite an appeal by both sides to dispense with the formality, General Howse insisted that the regulations must be adhered to.

In the middle of the fourth reading Howse suggested that they sit down but McMullen said he preferred to stand and Mitchell stayed with him.

After the fourth reading Howse ordered a recess until 2 o'clock.

When the afternoon session convened McMullen resumed reading, but he and Mitchell were seated. The reading so tired McMullen's voice that he brought four different brands of throat tablets to the room after the luncheon recess.

Colonel Mitchell seemed to lose interest and glanced at a newspaper. He was still listening, however, for he would occasionally look up, meditate and jot down a note on a page of paper.

On the reading of the fifth specification McMullen swallowed another throat lozenge, rested a minute and then went on.

A corporal sitting at the rear of the court fell asleep. He was awakened violently by his sergeant to the amusement of the court and spectators.

CHAMBER COMMERCE SEARCH TOWNS DINNER TONIGHT FOR COSTUMES

Business Men And Others Interested in Civic Affairs Urged to Attend

PLEASING MENU OFFERED

Plenty of Food Provided so That Second Helpings Can be Offered

Business men and others interested in the civic affairs of the city are urged to attend the opening dinner of the Chamber of Commerce this evening at 6:15 o'clock, which usher in the season's activities for that organization.

Frank G. Hall and his house committee is in charge of this dinner, which is being prepared by the Garvey restaurant, and the menu to be offered should tickle the palates of even the hardest to please. Mr. Hall promises that he will provide plenty of food to assure a second helping to all, which should be sufficient inducement to bring out a record attendance.

The regular meeting of the Chamber, combined with a smoker, will follow the dinner. Plans for the coming season's activities will be formulated at this meeting, and for this reason it is important that every member be present. In order to function properly it is necessary that all members take an active interest in the affairs of the Chamber, says F. H. Gruenhagen, president, and give the officers every support in their work.

All who can do so, regardless of whether they are members of the Chamber or not, are asked to attend the dinner tonight, and to interest themselves in the civic affairs of the community. Those who may find it absolutely impossible to be present at the dinner are urged to come later for the meeting and smoker which immediately follows the meal.

ORCHESTRA COSTUMED TOO

Public Knows It Can Depend on a Mighty Good Time at Traveling Men's Dance

The town is being searched high and low for wigs and costumes to wear at the big U. C. T. dance which will be given at Birchdale pavilion on Friday evening of this week, October 30th.

The "get-up" of the orchestra will be a scream, it is promised, the members having entered into the spirit of the occasion and prepared costumes that will be out of the ordinary.

The dance is advertised as being "all for fun" and the U. C. T. committee can be depended upon to carry out this slogan to the letter. The public knows that it can depend upon a mighty good time at a "traveling men's dance," and this Halloween event is to surpass anything that the local council has ever attempted.

While it is not compulsory that those attending come in costume, still it is hoped that those who are planning to attend enter into the real spirit of the occasion and wear something different than their regular party clothes, the more ridiculous the outfit, the more successful will be the committee's efforts.

The committee has gone to some little expense to select prizes worth while to those who are the most fantastically attired, an inducement that should bring out some unusual costumes.

Mrs. West will serve coffee and lunch and the big pavilion will be heated and made very comfortable.

It has been some time since there has been any old time barn dance, and from the reports of those invited to attend there will be a large crowd present, and the larger the attendance, the more fun there will be. As the invitations read, "And now the fun begins."

Why We Selected STUDEBAKER ONE-PROFIT Cars to sell in BRAINERD

IT pleases us to announce that we have been appointed dealers for Studebaker cars in this territory.

After reviewing the field of fine cars, we decided on the Studebaker line because we are convinced that one-profit Studebaker cars offer vastly more for the money than any other fine cars on the market.

Here are the reasons which influenced our decision—reasons which will appeal equally to every motor car purchaser seeking utmost value for his dollars:

1—Studebaker offers the only one-profit automobile in the fine-car field. Like Ford in the low-price field, Studebaker builds all of its own bodies, engines, clutches, gear sets, springs, differentials, steering gears, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings. Thus, by saving the extra profit of outside parts and body makers, Studebaker is able to offer a much better car for the money—can afford to use finer upholstery, better steels, higher grades of lumber and more painstaking workmanship, and still keep down the purchase price.

2—The one-profit Studebaker is a better car, regardless of price, because it is designed, engineered and built as a unit. As a result, its hundreds of parts function together as a unit, yielding greater comfort, easier riding and longer life. Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation are thus built into every Studebaker car.

3—Studebakers are kept up-to-date all of the time without "new yearly models." This policy protects buyers against unnecessary depreciation and lowered resale value caused by annual announcements.

4—Back of every Studebaker car are assets of $100,000,000, including $60,000,000 in plants and facilities, plus Studebaker's 73-year old reputation for quality. This background assures the purchaser that the Studebaker will never be an "orphan" car.

Come in and inspect the sturdy, thrifty, one-profit Studebaker cars. See the Studebaker enclosed models—coaches, broughams and sedans. See the exclusive Studebaker Duplex models—combining open-car airiness with closed-car protection. Remember, the one-profit Studebaker offers you a better car at a lower price. It will give you many more thousands of miles of comfortable, dependable transportation. Greatly increased sales prove it is the supreme value in the fine-car field.

Why We Selected STUDEBAKER ONE-PROFIT Cars to sell in BRAINERD

IT pleases us to announce that we have been appointed dealers for Studebaker cars in this territory.

After reviewing the field of fine cars, we decided on the Studebaker line because we are convinced that one-profit Studebaker cars offer vastly more for the money than any other fine cars on the market.

Here are the reasons which influenced our decision—reasons which will appeal equally to every motor car purchaser seeking utmost value for his dollars:

1—Studebaker offers the only one-profit automobile in the fine-car field. Like Ford in the low-price field, Studebaker builds all of its own bodies, engines, clutches, gear sets, springs, differentials, steering gears, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings. Thus, by saving the extra profit of outside parts and body makers, Studebaker is able to offer a much better car for the money—can afford to use finer upholstery, better steels, higher grades of lumber and more painstaking workmanship, and still keep down the purchase price.

2—The one-profit Studebaker is a better car, regardless of price, because it is designed, engineered and built as a unit. As a result, its hundreds of parts function together as a unit, yielding greater comfort, easier riding and longer life. Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation are thus built into every Studebaker car.

3—Studebakers are kept up-to-date all of the time without "new yearly models." This policy protects buyers against unnecessary depreciation and lowered resale value caused by annual announcements.

4—Back of every Studebaker car are assets of $100,000,000, including $60,000,000 in plants and facilities, plus Studebaker's 73-year old reputation for quality. This background assures the purchaser that the Studebaker will never be an "orphan" car.

Come in and inspect the sturdy, thrifty, one-profit Studebaker cars. See the Studebaker enclosed models—coaches, broughams and sedans. See the exclusive Studebaker Duplex models—combining open-car airiness with closed-car protection. Remember, the one-profit Studebaker offers you a better car at a lower price. It will give you many more thousands of miles of comfortable, dependable transportation. Greatly increased sales prove it is the supreme value in the fine-car field.

PRESERVING WILD FLOWERS AND TREES

In the October issue of "Minnesota Chats," a pamphlet published monthly by the University of Minnesota Press, "for a better Minnesota," Dr. C. O. Rosendahl discusses a subject which comes very near to us, that of "The Preservation of Wild Flowers and Trees." Being a botanist of authority, his words should be heeded.

He states that the propaganda for the preservation of wild flowers is a phase of the general conservation movement. To a great many practical minded people this endeavor to save and perpetuate wild flowers appears as only another one of the numerous sentimental uplifts with which we are sorely afflicted these days.

We cannot measure in dollars and cents the benefits we derive from our contact with the out-of-doors, yet no one who has tramped and camped and lingered in the open country will deny that his life has been enriched thereby. That which adds to the wholesome recreational side of our lives becomes more and more important with the increasing rush and strain of modern civilization. The longing to get out into the open, away from the noise and turmoil of the city is but natural revolt against a too artificial mode of life. One knows of no better surcease from trouble and care than a sojourn in the northern woods.

Whether we fish, hunt, play or study, or just loaf, the preservation of all forms of wild life and the beauties of nature becomes of vital importance and deserves serious consideration. From the sentimental and aesthetic side alone, the preservation of our flowers and trees is amply justified, but certain species are also of practical value in medicinal or other economical use.

The part which our wild flowers play in making Minnesota a land so attractive to the tourist is a major one. No other state in the Union can boast of so great an area of fresh water lakes and streams. The fame of the Land of Ten Thousand Lakes is becoming world wide. Without the flowers we should still have our numerous lakes and streams. We might have our various types of forests, but much of their charm would be gone and it is even doubtful if they could perpetuate themselves because the necessary equilibrium could not be maintained.

Under the mistaken notion that burning is "good for the grass," many set fires in the spring or fall to their lawns, their waste lots, their pastures, meadows, hillsides, and even woods. True, it cleans up the place. But the fertilizing effect of the ashes is far less than that of the humus-building vegetable matter which is destroyed. Bushes and shrubs and seedling trees are killed. The early wild flowers are either singed or killed or, if they have not yet emerged from the ground, they are deprived of the vegetable litter which is absolutely essential for their maintenance. In its ruinous effects upon all forms of wild life, burning is one of the worst practices we engage in.

And next to burning comes promiscuous drainage. Many of our orchards and other rare and interesting swamp or bog plants are so nicely adjusted with respect to water level that a fluctuation of a few inches will exterminate them over large areas of swamp or bog. Drainage more often than picking has spelled the doom of the white lady's slipper in some districts.

On the pretext of reclaiming land for agricultural purposes large tracts of northern swamp land have been drained. Not only do most of these areas prove worthless as farming land but the natural vegetation is ruined for good. These drained peat bogs in dry seasons constitute a constant menace as the starting places of devastating forest fires. Infinitely more harm than good has resulted from many of the drainage schemes within our borders.

As long as travel was slow and as long as those who wanted to pick flowers had to travel far afoot, there was comparatively little danger of extermination of wild flowers. But the advent of the automobile has changed this and all the flower sanctuaries of yesterday are everywhere being invaded and despoiled by the thoughtless pickers and diggers. It has become necessary to organize Wild Flower Preservation societies.

Trees and shrubs respond to the same factors of temperature, moisture and soil as the herbs. They are more liable to the injurious and killing effects of grazing, burning and cutting down than plants with buried stems. Not only along our principal highways but even upon numerous byways trees are stripped of their branches, broken or twisted, some kinds both during spring and autumn, and left in a ragged and dying condition.

During the height of the tourist season in July and August thousands of cars can be seen festooned with evergreens gathered in the north woods and intended to beautify backyards and farmsteads of southern Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and places even farther away. With the roots poorly protected, branches waving in the drying gale created by the rushing car, these plants are in no condition to transplant at the journey's end. In the long run the harm done to regrowth in the north is very considerable. As remedies, Prof. Rosendahl proposes establishment of wild life sanctuaries, proper education of children in regard to preservation of flowers and trees, nature study work in the grade schools, courses in botany, etc., in all high schools of the state and the aid of such organizations as the Women's clubs, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls in the cause of conservation.

CHILDREN REMEMBER FAVORITE CLOTHES

POORLY dressed children, says an authority, attach too much importance to clothes when they grow up.

Overdressed children are generally out of it when they are little, and find their good taste blunted when they grow older.

Comfortably but carelessly dressed children know instinctively they are at a disadvantage.

Well-dressed children have a head start. They learn early so many of the valuable things that cannot be found in books. Probably one reason the French have such good taste is that they learn about dress naturally as little children.

SOME of our best thinkers come from the "wide-open" spaces. Witness Billy Noonan of the Baudette Region, out where the Northwest Angle begins.

THE Minneapolis Tribune sent a girl reporter, Lorena Hickock, to write its front page story of the Notre Dame-Minnesota game. The fair Lorena just has a natural eye for spotting everything, no matter how fast it happens.

We always get more than we go after. Some of it is evil. Some of it is good. When we set out on a great life-quest, let us be sure that the "then-some" will bring happiness also.

DAY FROM PRESIDENT
DOUMERGUE

PARTIES OF THE LEFT FAVOR
PAINLEVE TO HEAD NEW REGIME IN FRANCE

By A. L. BRADFORD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Paris, Oct. 28.—A call to Paul Painleve to make a new cabinet was expected today from President Doumergue.

Matters were shaping themselves in the French cabinet crisis today as ex-Finance Minister Caillaux had predicted when he said that once the Painleve government had shaken him off, there would come into being a new Painleve regime.

PAINLEVE ACCEPTS THE COMMISSION

Paris, Oct. 28.—Paul Painleve this evening accepted the commission of President Doumergue to form a new cabinet to succeed his old one.

He had promised a reply to Doumergue's invitation for 4:30 P. M. but conferences, sounding out political leaders, caused him to postpone the answer until nearly 8 P. M.

He had utilized the afternoon partly in necessary routine business and partly in sounding out the situation. The news he gathered during his inquiries was favorable to his reconstruction of a cabinet.

From leaders of the left groups, upon which the cabinet must depend for support came news that they viewed him favorably, though the socialists were inclined to want Edouard Herriot back in power.

Painleve learned that a cabinet that would support a capital levy as a means of meeting France's pressing financial needs, would meet the endorsement of the Chamber. Painleve can meet this requirement for his old cabinet resigned to shut out Finance Minister Caillaux, when the latter balked at applying this stringent remedy. It is deemed likely the cabinet Painleve will seek to form will not vary greatly from the old Painleve regime. Minneapolis Press Praises Auger Bros. Company

Auger Bros. Stock Co., will open a week's run at the New Park on Monday night Nov. 2. This is Auger Bros. second visit to Brainerd and the high class entertainment they gave on their former visit made them great favorites here. They have an entirely new repertoire of plays this season which include some of the latest releases from Broadway.

Carlton Miles, dramatic editor of the Minneapolis Journal recently watched a performance of the Auger Bros. Company and the following is an excerpt of what he had to say of it:

"We watched a performance of 'So This Is London' that would do credit to the average permanent stock company. Not only were individual roles played well, but the performance had tempo and spirit, the diction of each player was admirable. At no time were we able to detect overplaying. The performance was as legitimate and free from obvious tricks as if the players had been appearing on Broadway and the standard of separate characterization was unusually good.

"Repertoire companies of this standard do a service, it seems to us, in serving communities that otherwise would be without the spoken drama."

CARLTON MILES.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE CLASS

Brainerd Institution to Graduate
Class of 14 at Autumn
Commencement

COURSES TAKEN LISTED

Very Interesting and Instructive Program Has Been Prepared

The Brainerd Commercial College will graduate a class of 14 at its annual autumn commencement, which will be held the latter part of next week, the definite date to be announced later. The college graduates two classes each year. This action is necessary because of the fact that the school is in session summer and winter, the students being placed in position as soon as they complete their courses, and it would be impossible for many to attend commencement exercises if held but once each year.

The fall class, while not as large as the one held in the spring, shows a representative number of members from Brainerd as well as from outside the city, attesting the popularity and good reputation of the college in the surrounding territory.

The personnel of the class, with the addresses of the members, listed according to the course that they are completing, is as follows:

Complete or combined business course: Ethel Keep, Cross Lake; Norma Hunt, Little Fork; Marie Bowman, Jenkins; Marie Schultz, Jenkins; Alice Holm, Sacret Heart; Gretta Liebold, Crosby; and Mae Anderson, of Brainerd.

Stenographic course: Ruth Edwards, Marion Kehoe, Anna Luttman, and Lilla Rautus, all of Brainerd.

Bookkeeping course: Lillian Peterson, Jacob Preston and Clarence Wheeler, of Brainerd.

In several of the above cases where the addresses are given as Brainerd, the students are from rural routes served by this post office, but are in reality closer to some other town. In one case the family moved to Brainerd so that the daughter could live at home while attending the college, and since she has been placed in a position here, they are continuing their residence in the city.

As usual, a very interesting as well as instructive program is being prepared for next week's commencement exercises. There will be several worthwhile addresses, a number of musical selections, and a portion of program to be given by members of the student body. It is hoped to secure the Brainerd Ladies band for an appearance at these exercises, also.

The college has just completed its tenth year in the city under the present name, and is entering upon its eleventh year under the most favorable conditions. It has an excellent enrollment in both day and evening classes, and many more new students are enrolling, since it is possible to enter the institution at any time instead of having to wait long intervals for special classes to be organized.

The college is located on the second floor of the city hall building, where visitors will be welcomed at any time. Of course the public is invited to next week's commencement program, and is asked to show its interest, both in the school and its graduates, by a large attendance. The exact time and date will be announced in the Dispatch in the near future.

New York, Oct. 28.—A gridiron battle between two of the most famous backfield stars football has produced seems to have been cancelled with news from Philadelphia that Al Kruez, the Pennsylvania ace, will be out of the line-up when Red Grange and his Illinois teammates invade the Quaker City Saturday.

According to the decidedly bearish information handed out by the Pennsylvania coaching staff, Kruez has an injured knee which will not permit him to play for more than a week.

Football mentors dearly love to betray their public by sounding the lugubrious note in advance of the big games. Week after week passes in which a casualty list is announced and the members of that list get into action just as though they never had been injured.

The psychology of this stunt is of doubtful value. Surely if a prize fight manager announced that his charge was suffering from every ailment known to man, including housemaid's knee and croup, the size of the gate would be measurably reduced, in fact, fight managers usually lean the other way. They announce that their fighters always are "in the pink" and strive to create optimism.

But football coaches seem to think that if they be not mournful they are not doing their duty. One glaring exception so far this year is Charles Crowley, who superintends the Columbia team. Prior to the game with Ohio State, Crowley announced that every man in the line-up was in tiptop shape. As a matter of fact, Captain George Pease was injured so badly that he could not possibly have played.

But Crowley figured that what Ohio State did not know would not hurt them. He believed that the Ohioans would wonder when Pease would get into the game and in that way would feel that Crowley had an ace up his sleeve who might take the field in the fourth quarter and run riot. Columbia was defeated but the score might have been larger had the Ohio athletes known in the first place that Pease would not oppose them.

MISSISSIPPI FREEZES OVER AT LITTLE FALLS

Little Falls, Oct. 28.—(UP)—The Mississippi river was covered with ice here today, the earliest freeze up in history.

Only once before, since the government records started in 1889, has the father of waters crawled under his winter blanket of ice in October. In 1917 the river was closed by ice on October 30.

Old river men said the early arrival of winter in this section probably meant that the river would not be open again until spring. The temperature here last night was 15 above zero.

Note—Upon inquiry at the Northwest Paper company in Brainerd it was learned that the river at that point was still open. However, they have their winter supply of pulp on hand, so the early freeze up will not affect their business.

REFORMS NEEDED IN BASEBALL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 28.—Two good lessons could have been learned by the major league club owners in the late world's series if they are interested in the future of baseball and want to keep the game above criticism.

There is nothing seriously wrong with baseball if there is anything wrong at all. The game is being played well and administered well. There was no scandal during the 1925 season and the world's series was the best ever seen.

But there are dangers ahead that need safeguards and the most important of them is the commercial evil as it pertains particularly to the world's series.

Too much money is becoming involved in the world's series. As long as there are from 35,000 to 40,000 fans who are willing to pay more than $100,000 to see one game between the champions of the National and American leagues and as many more who would attend if there was room for them, the owners of the champion clubs cannot be criticized for taking the money.

If the fans want to pay more than a million dollars to see a series for the world's championship, the magnates would be poor business men if they did not capitalize on the opportunity. But therein lies the danger.

Baseball is becoming too much of a business. It is becoming a game of getting the money, played both by the club owners and the players.

The closest scrutiny did not disclose that there were any reasons for the seven games in the last series other than that neither the Pirates nor the Senators were able to win until the series had gone the limit.

Yet, you could hear fans around the hotels in Washington and in Pittsburgh expressing the opinion early in the series, when it looked like the Senators were a cinch to win in five games, that the series would go the limit of seven games.

"How can they turn down more than $200,000 for two more games?" it was asked.

No one would dare say that the Senators did not try to win the series in straight games. The players are allowed to share in the receipts of only four games and it is quite certain that they were eager to get the thing over with as soon as possible. Most of the players, figuring that they are underpaid, have no particular feeling of loyalty or duty toward their club owner and they would not feel under any obligation to do anything that would help them make more money.

But as long as there are excuses for suspicion, some fans will rattle skeletons and ask questions. The big money angle is responsible for it.

SPORT TABLOIDS

Hornby Most Dangerous Pinch Hitter
New York—National league players answering a questionnaire voted overwhelmingly in favor of Rogers Hornby of the Cardinals as the league's most dangerous pinch hitter.

"Bonnie" Reber Died
Kansas City, Mo.—John A. ("Bonnie") Reber, former star athlete at Kansas university, died of pernicious anemia here after a short illness. Reber won his letters in football and basketball at Kansas and captained the 1916 eleven.

Schaefer Beats Hoppe
Detroit, Mich.—Jake Schaefer, balk line billiard champion, came from behind to win a 1,200 point exhibition match from Willie Hoppe, former champion, here last night. Hoppe, who was leading by a score of 900 to 789 at the start of the last block, finished with a total score of 1,134. Schaefer scored a run of 191 high for the match and had an average of 5 in 24 innings. Hoppe's high run was 116 and his average 47.36.

FLOYD JOHNSON NEVER TO FIGHT AGAIN IN JERSEY

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 28.—(UP)—Floyd Johnson, Iowa heavyweight, who went down before the onslaught of Harry Wills in one round in Newark two days ago, never again will fight in New Jersey, according to a decision of the state boxing commission made public here today.

In a statement issued to newspapermen here today A. G. Bugbee, state boxing commissioner, apologized to the patrons of boxing for the bout, disbarred Johnson from future bouts and suspended Homer Robertson, who figured in the preliminaries, from fighting in New Jersey for six months. The boxing commission's statement follows:

"The boxing commission of New Jersey was very much humiliated and disappointed at the outcome of the Wills-Johnson fight and feels that an explanation is due the patrons of boxing."

"The commissioner and the chief inspector had seen Floyd Johnson in action less than two years ago and thought he would be a reasonable trial horse for Harry Wills. Permission to hold the bout was granted only after careful deliberation and approval of the judgement of the commission was wrong as the results show."

"Floyd Johnson will be disbarred from future contests in this state."

ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE OF VIOLATING WHITE SLAVE ACT

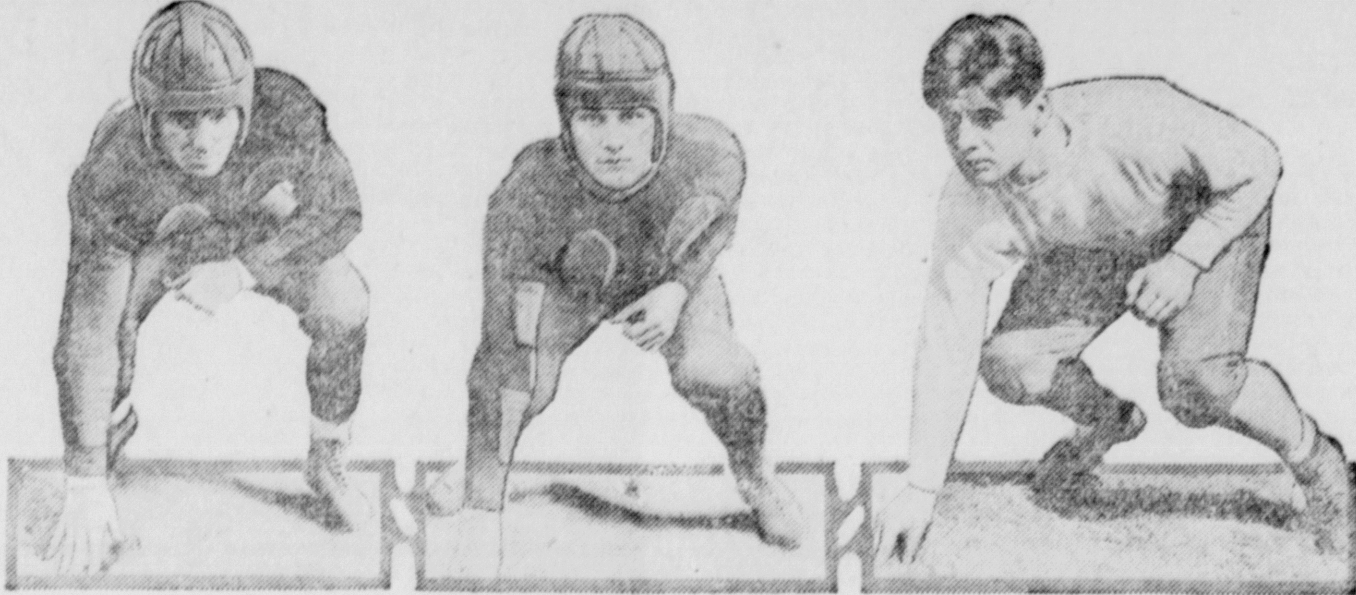

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 28.—(UP)—"Prof." Lee W. Millard of Milwaukee and his stenographer, Helen Raymond, 24, were arraigned before department of justice authorities here today on charges of violating the Mann white slave act.

Officials claim Millard and his pretty assistant were attempting to lure young girls into Mexican border resort towns for immoral purposes. They came here recently from Milwaukee travelling as man and wife, it is alleged.

Millard according to federal authorities was head of an institution in Milwaukee practicing the cure of stammering.

"I came out here with Prof. Millard to aid him in establishing a branch school," the girl testified, denying she had been guilty of any wrong doing."

Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 28.—Rapid City, S. D., was believed to be the coldest spot in the United States today. The temperature there descended to 13 degrees below zero at 8 a. m., according to reports received by the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company here.

Here are three of the men on whom University of Minnesota students are depending to carry their colors high in the season's big games now at hand. All are new to Minnesota football, although Peplaw took part in about three plays against Michigan last year before he was laid out with a knee injury which kept him from playing for the rest of the season. Joesting bids fair to be Minnesota's rival to "Five Yards McCarthy" and other famous conference fullbacks, like Britton and Fry. This big boy is from Owatonna and is the idol of southern Minnesota fans. Murrell weighs 190 but can run 100 yards in ten seconds equalling Peplaw's speed. His presence in secondary defense has had much to do with the unwillingness of opponents to try forward passes against the Gophers this year. Dr. Spears is depending on this trio to show Minnesota's calibre in the coming battles with Western Conference elevens.

Jo-Jo-Imperial, Aristocratic Wire Haired Terrier, Returns

St. Paul, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Jo-Jo-Imperial, aristocratic wire haired terrier owned by Frank Hoffman, is basking in the glow of the Hoffman hearth fire today after five months of exposure to the summer sun and the chilly fall breezes.

Jo-Jo was discovered in the company of ordinary tramp dogs by his master during one of the snow flurries here this week. He returned willingly to the home made intolerable five months ago by the advent of competitors for affection, twins.

COCA COLA PLANT IN ATLANTA IS TOTAL FIRE LOSS

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 28.—(UP)—Fire broke out in the bottling plant of the Coca Cola Company here early today, destroying the plant and burning to death Warren Moore, night watchman.

A man, known as "Irish" Kaylor, his wife and son, who occupied rooms in the ground floor of the building are missing.

The loss is estimated at $200,000.

TWO MINNEAPOLIS MEN FIGHT OVER WOMAN

Minneapolis, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Assault charges were on file today against both participants in a shooting affray here alleged to have started in a quarrel over a woman. Ben Wilson and William Boyd, both wounded, are named for the offense.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

Jervis a Fistic Midget
New York—Ernie Jervis, Great Britain's fistic midget, gets a real test of his fitness to succeed the flyweight crown tonight when he meets Johnny Breslin at the New York Manhattan Casino.

Los Angeles—Bud Taylor, the Terra Haute terrier, won a 10 round decision from Doc Snell of Tacoma here last night. Taylor had the better of the scrap most of the way.

RACING ENDED AT SOUTHERN PARK

Youngstown, O., Oct. 28.—(UP)—Owing to inclement weather racing at Southern park here has ended, the remaining four days being declared off.

Is Green No More

"My experience with your medicine has been wonderful. My stomach and liver trouble of five years' standing took a new turn two years ago when I took on an olive green complexion. I spent $1,200 with doctors and specialists only to prove that I was still as green as ever. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am green no more. My stomach and liver trouble has all disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.—Advt.

American Sportsman Wins Quarter Million

London, Oct. 28.—(UP)—A. K. MacComber, American sportsman, became richer by $250,000 when his Masked Marvel won the classic Cambridge-shire stakes this afternoon. Ponsas-rum was second and Blue Pete third. MacComber first won the Czarzewitch stakes a fortnight ago and bookmakers had laid him odds of 500 to 1 that both his horses would not win in the two big races of the fall season. He wagered £100 at those odds.

The Chinese Cinnamon Tree

Spreading its symmetrical top far into the blue heavens of Indo-China stands the Chinese cinnamon tree. Wherever it exists the natives are busy extracting its pungent oil. This oil known to commerce as the oil of cassia has been successfully combined by J. Dorman Steele, a chemist of note, with camphor, oils of spearmint, thyme, cajuput and pure grain alcohol into the remedy Burma-Vita. Sounds like it would do the business, doesn't it? It will! Rub the sore rheumatic spot or sprain 5 to 8 minutes with Burma-Vita, then apply bath towel dipped in hot water and wrung out. The moist heat vaporizes Burma-Vita and drives it deep down to the seat of the pain. The action of Burma-Vita is tremendous; it suffocates, deadens, kills the pain. It puts new life into the disordered tissues; many wake up next morning with pain all gone. Used by leading athletic clubs and sanitariums (both Minneapolis and St. Paul Athletic Clubs use it in large quantities). The war in China has greatly increased the price of the oil of cassia; the price of Burma-Vita remains the same. Druggists 50c.

PENNSYLVANIA ACE IS OUT OF LINEUP SATURDAY

BEARISH INFORMATION HANDED OUT BY PENNSYLVANIA COACHING STAFF

CLAIM KRUEZ' KNEE WILL SHUT HIM OFF FROM PLAY- ING

New York, Oct. 28.—A gridiron battle between two of the most famous backfield stars football has produced seems to have been cancelled with news from Philadelphia that Al Kruez, the Pennsylvania ace, will be out of the line-up when Red Grange and his Illinois teammates invade the Quaker City Saturday.

The psychology of this stunt is of doubtful value. The other is the case of Walter F. Schwendeman, as administrator for the estate of his deceased wife, against the city of Brainerd, asking damages in the sum of $7,500, alleging that Mrs. Schwendeman's death was caused by negligence upon the part of the city in allowing its electric light current to be shut off during an operation that was performed upon her in August, 1924 at a local hospital; that the operation was thus delayed, and this delay caused her death.

The lesson for this month is, in effect, a review of world history since the World War—as reflected in the business of the League of Nations. The recent illustration of just how the League goes about its business of stopping wars will be reviewed.

N. E. IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE

Discuss Streets And Highways at First Meeting of the Winter Season

The first meeting of the winter season of the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League was held at the Lowell school on Tuesday evening. President Mrs. J. H. Herbert presiding. P. G. Drieling acted as secretary in the absence of Secretary H. A. Kaatz who was attending a meeting of the city finance committee and the park board.

Considerable discussion was had on ways and means of having certain streets of the Third ward further improved next summer, but no definite action was taken on account of the small attendance. The route of Trunk Highway No. 2 was also discussed. It is believed some definite action will be taken on these matters later in the winter.

The League paid respect to the late Mrs. Otto Lundberg, who with Mr. Lundberg had given years of faithful service to the League.

The president reported a vacancy in the office of vice president caused by the removal of E. L. Dahl to the south side of the city. In speaking of the matter she said the League regrets to lose such a faithful, zealous and conscientious worker. Mr. Dahl had served several years on the school board, as well as being past president of the League. On behalf of the League she wished him success in his new undertaking. The vacancy will be filled at the next meeting.

Mayor Cain was present and gave a short talk on the merits of the League.

COMPLAINT FILED IN DAMAGE CASE

Miss Lena Fenske Recites Her Cause of Action in Complaint Filed

CLAIMS $2,500 DAMAGES

Alleges $250 For Surgical Expense, $250 Hospital Expense, Caused by Car Accident

Among the cases on the November term calendar of the district court is the case of Lena Fenske against Ambrose Patrick McGarry. The complaint as filed in the clerk's office alleges that on or about June 9, 1925 defendant invited and solicited plaintiff to ride with him in his automobile; that plaintiff pursuant to such invitation entered said automobile and became defendant's passenger therein. It further alleges that at said time unknown to plaintiff, defendant was intoxicated and that defendant did not become aware of such fact until said automobile was in motion and she could not leave said automobile without risk of great bodily injury; that defendant drove said automobile containing plaintiff through the public streets of Brainerd and on to a public highway in an improper, careless, negligent and reckless manner without regard to plaintiff's safety; that by reason of defendant's so driving said automobile while intoxicated and in such an improper, careless, negligent and reckless manner at a place one-half mile north of the city limits, he caused said automobile to run off said highway and through the guard fence and down a steep embankment. Plaintiff alleges that she thereby sustained great bodily injury and was prevented from attending to her business as cashier and is now by reason of such injuries unable to work as cashier or to do any work whatsoever, for a period of one year. It is alleged that plaintiff has expended the sum of $250 for surgical expense and the sum of $250 for hospital expense and asks for damages in the sum of $2,500, together with her costs and disbursements.

It also alleges that if plaintiff suffered any injuries while riding in said automobile said injuries were due solely and entirely to plaintiff's own negligence and carelessness and not otherwise.

D. F. Fullerton is attorney for the plaintiff and Ryan, Ryan and Ryan for the defendant.

CHAPTER XII. (Continued)

The Countess slipped into a combing-jacket; then she seated herself on the springy couch of pine branches over which her fur robe was spread, and deftly caught up her long runaway tresses, securing them in place with a few mysterious twists and expert manipulations.

"Boy, indeed!" he scoffed, flinging himself down beside her. "That's over with, long ago."

"Oh, I don't feel motherly," she asserted, still suffused with that tell-tale flush. "Not in the way you mean. But you'll always be a boy to me—and to every other woman who learns to care for you."

"Every other woman?" Pierce's eyes opened. "What a queer speech. There aren't going to be any other women." He looked on while she lighted a cigarette, then after a moment he inquired, "What do you mean?"

She answered him with another question. "Do you think I am the only woman who will love you?"

"Why—I haven't given it any thought! What's the difference, as long as you're the only one I care for? And I do love you, I worship—"

"But there will be others," she persisted. "There are bound to be. You're that kind."

"Really?"

The Countess nodded her head with emphasis. "I can read men; I can see the color of their souls. You have the call."

"What call?" Pierce was puzzled.

"The—well, the sex-call, the sex appeal."

"Indeed? Am I supposed to feel flattered at that?"

"By no means; you're not a cad. Men who possess that attraction are spoiled sooner or later. You don't realize that you have it, and that's what makes you so nice, but—I felt it from the first, and when you feel it you'll probably become spoiled, too, like the others." This amused Phillips, but the woman was in sober earnest. "I mean what I say. You're the kind who cause women to make fools of themselves—old or young, married or single. When a girl has it—she's lost."

"I'm not sure I understand. At any rate you haven't made a fool of yourself."

"No?" The Countess smiled vaguely, questioning. She opened her lips to say more, but changed her mind and in an altered tone declared, "My dear boy, if you understood fully what I'm driving at you'd be insufferable." Laying her warm hand over his, she continued: "You resent what you call my 'motherly way,' but if I were sixteen and you were forty it would be just the same. Women who are afflicted with that sex appeal become men's playthings; the man who possesses it always remains a 'boy' to the woman who loves him—a bad boy, a dangerous boy, perhaps, but a boy, nevertheless. She may, and probably will, adore him fiercely passionately, jealously, but at the same time she will hover him as a hen hovers her chick. He will be both son and lover to her."

He had listened closely, but now he stirred uneasily. "I don't follow you," he said. "And it isn't exactly pleasant for a fellow to be told that he's a baby Don Juan, to be called a male vampire in kneepants—especially by the woman he's going to marry." Disregarding her attempt to speak, he went on: "What you said about other women—the way you said it—sounded almost as if—well, as if you expected there would be such, and didn't greatly care. You didn't mean it that way, I hope. You do care, don't you, dear? You do love me?" The face Phillips turned upon the Countess Courtenay was earnestly worried.

Her fingers tightened over his hand. When she spoke there was a certain listlessness, a certain fatigue in her tone. "Do you need to ask that after—what happened just now? Of course I care. I care altogether too much. That's the whole trouble. You see, the thing has run away with me, Pierce; it has carried me off my feet, and—that's precisely the point I'm trying to make."

He slipped an arm about her waist and drew her close. "I knew it wasn't merely an animal appeal that stirred you. I knew it was something bigger and more lasting than that."

"Even yet you don't understand,"

she declared. "The two may go together and—"

But without allowing her to finish he said, vibrantly: "Whatever it is, you seem to find it an obstacle, an objection. Why struggle against the inevitable? You are struggling—I've seen you fighting something ever since that first night when truth came to us out of the storm. But, Hilda dear, I adore you. You're the most wonderful creature in the world! You're a goddess! I feel unworthy to touch the hem of your garments, but I know that you are mine! Nothing else matters. Think of the miracle, the wonder of it! It's like a beautiful dream. I've had doubts about myself, and that's why I've let matters drift. You see, I was a sort of unknown quantity, but now I know that I've found myself. Today I went through hell and—I came out a man. I'm going to play a man's part right along after this."

He urged her eagerly. "We've a rare trip ahead of us before we reach Dawson; winter may overtake us and delay us. We can't continue in this way. Why wait any longer?"

"You mean—?" the woman inquired, faintly.

"I mean this—marry me here, tomorrow."

"No, no! Please—" The Countess freed herself from Pierce's embrace. "Why not? Are you afraid of me?" She shook her head silently.

"Then why not tomorrow instead of next month? Are you afraid of yourself?"

"No, I'm afraid of—what I must tell you."

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—With a background of favorable developments of which the most important was United States Steel's report for the third quarter, industrial shares continued to move ahead today.

Profit taking on the good news supplied by the earnings statement of the steel corporation, held steel common in check, but its backwardness was offset by unrestrained bullishness in several high priced stocks including Woolworth, General Railway Signal, Chrysler, Foundation Company and United Drug.

Demand for the motor shares gave no indication of abatement, while merchandising issues continued to derive upward impulse from the outlook for unprecedented holiday earnings.

Enthusiasm regarding industrial prospects was augmented by the weekly steel trade reviews which described the greatest optimism noted in several months.

Railway development is growing, pig iron prices are on the upward trend and steel mills are expected to maintain operations around 85 per cent capacity throughout the year.

The market closed higher.

Pasteurization

Pasteurization does not in any way impair the food value. It does cut the germ contents and proper pasteurization makes milk safe.

Is not the pasteurizing of milk worth looking into?

How Milk Is Pasteurized

It is first sampled and graded for TASTE and QUALITY; then comes the sediment test—the acidity test and is then pumped into pasteurizing vats where it is heated to 145 degrees, held 30 minutes—cooled in the vat to 120 degrees, then pumped back over aerator and cooled to 34 degrees, put through automatic bottler and capper and is ready for your table.

More Facts You Should Know

Pasteurization of milk is under the supervision of State as well as City authorities—every one who handles it is required to have a certificate of health—this method of purifying milk is endorsed by such famous doctors as the Mayo Brothers, large city health authorities, school heads, hospital heads and doctors everywhere. Pasteurization of milk takes nothing from the food content of good milk—it only adds a safeguard to its use in raw form.
